

Open gimp, and choose your font and type what ever you want.. i used font called "Toonish".

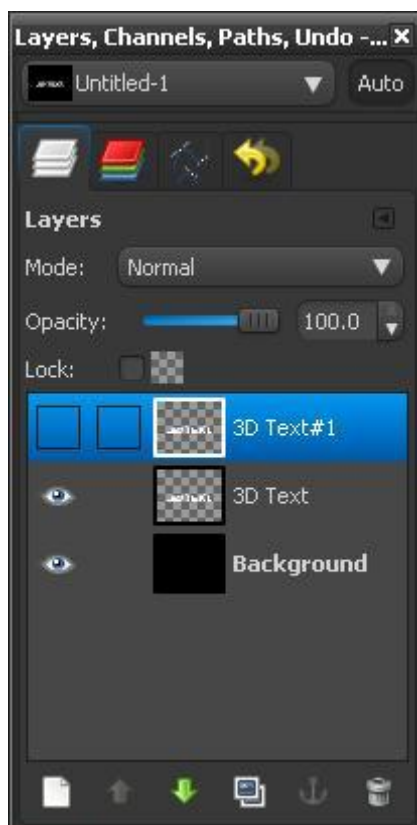

Select your perspective tool and bend the text down to the back like this... in the image and click on transform.

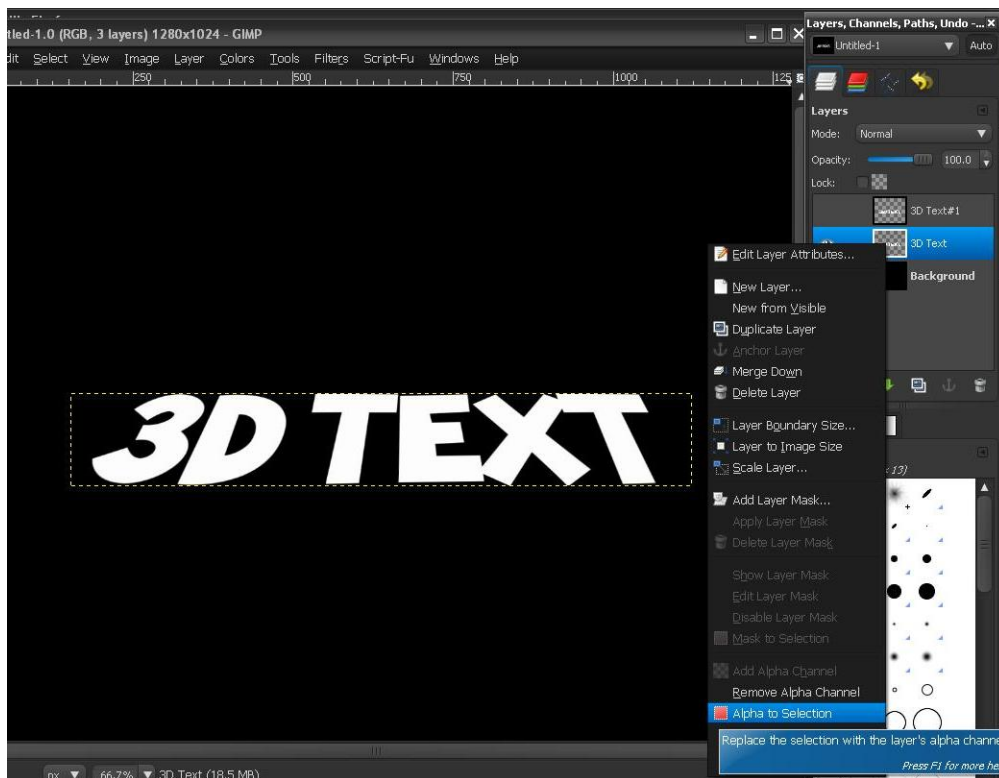

Now dublicate the text layer.

After you duplicated the layer uncheck the first layer cuz we will be working with the original one.

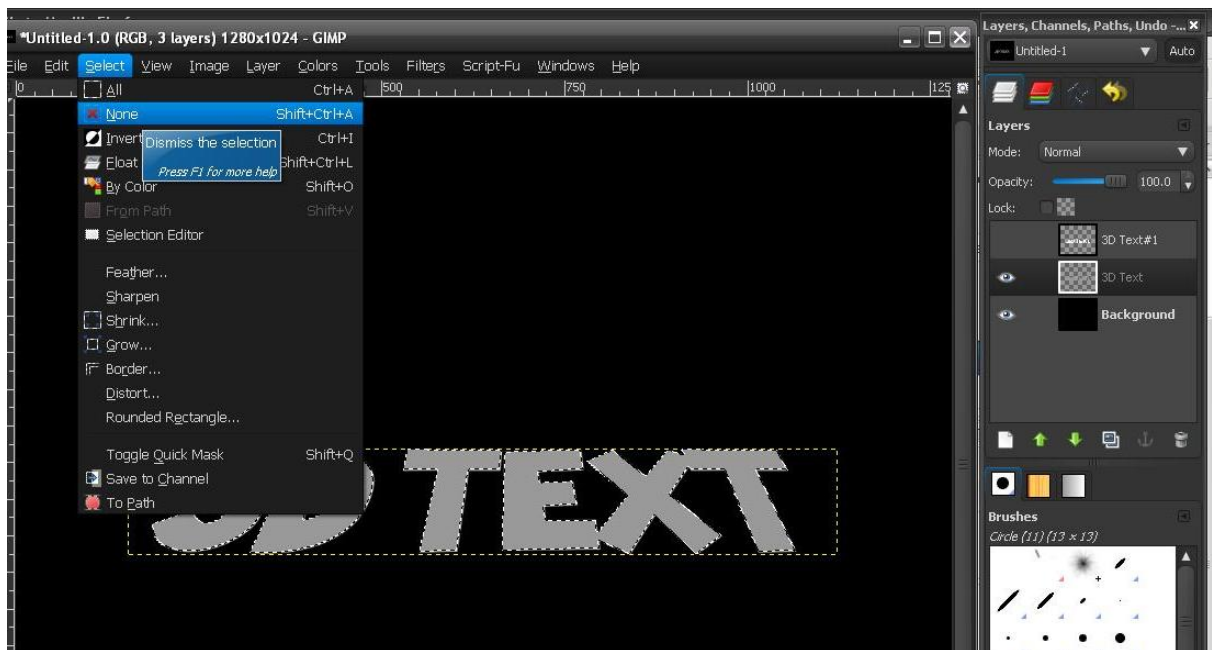

now right-click on the layer and select "Alpha to selection".

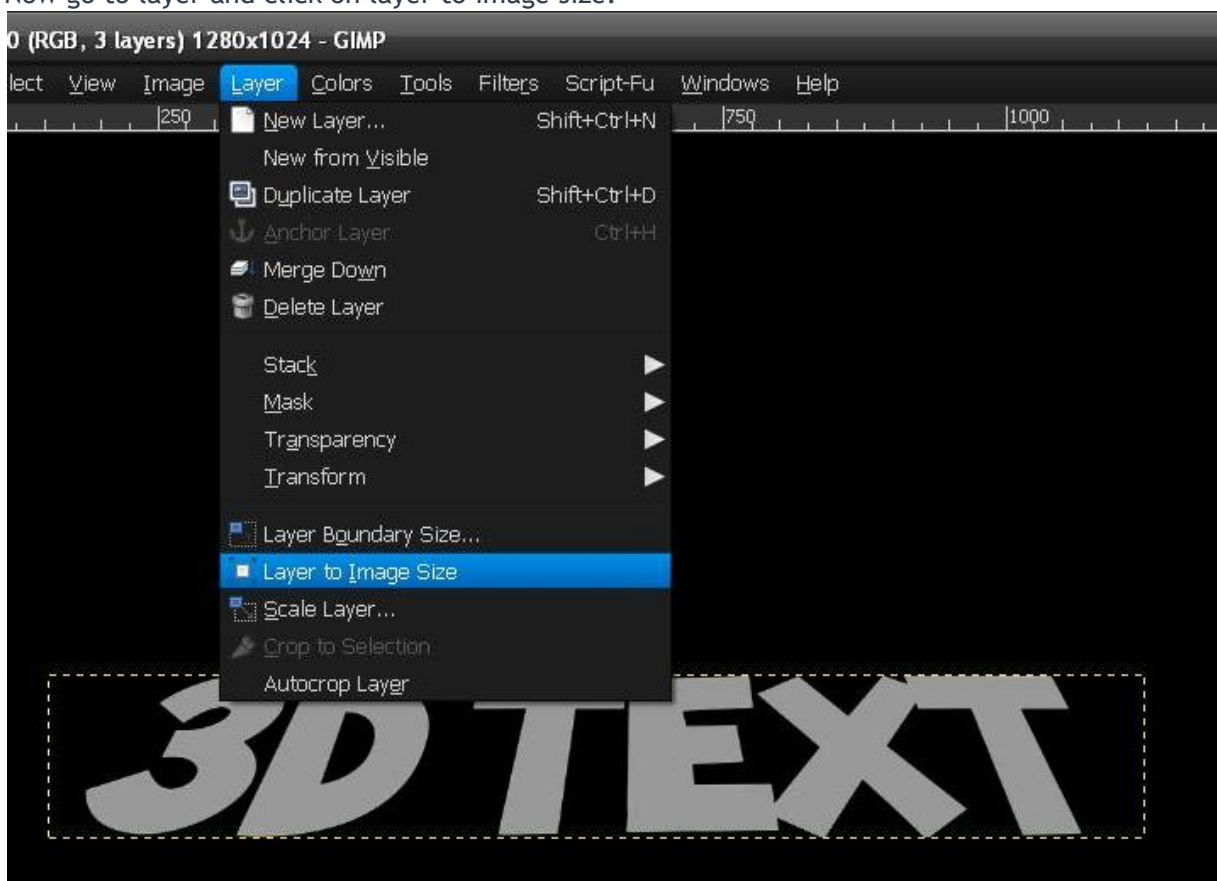

Now change the color to a darker color, in my case i changed it to grey.

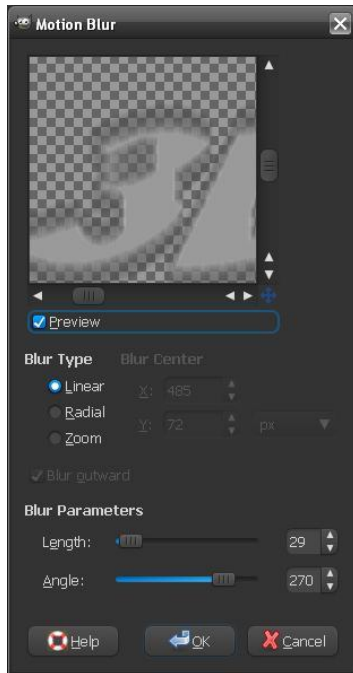

now select none.

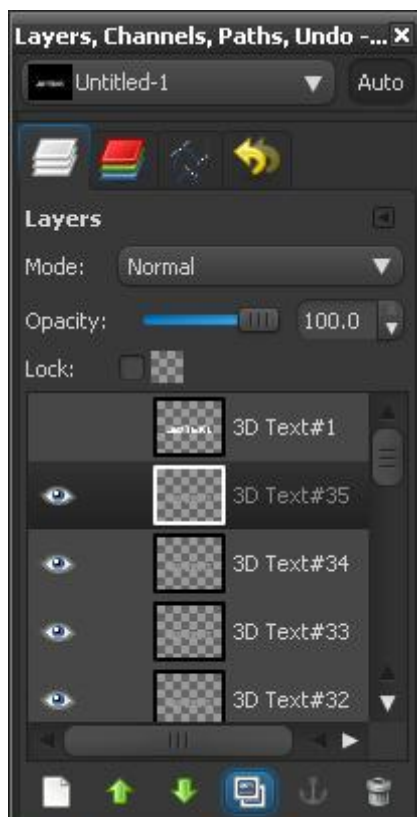

Now go to layer and click on layer to image size.

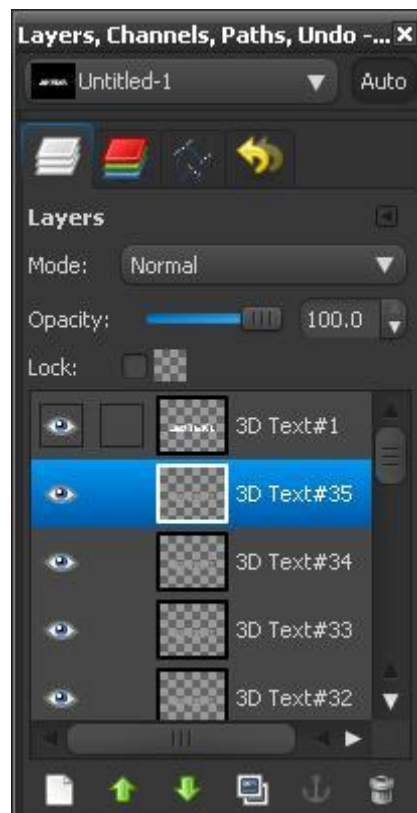

Now go to filters > Blur > Motion Blur and change the setting as the following in the pic.

Blur Type ; linear
Length ; 29
Angle ; 270

after blurring it duplicate it alot, i duplicated it 35 times.

now remember the layer that we unchecked in the beginning, check it again make it visible.

This is the final result!
